Leasing Programs

End-User Leasing Solutions

At TEQlease, all leases are customized to reflect the way you want to do business. We listen and adapt to your requirements. Lease documentation can be limited to a single-page lease document for simple transactions, or a master lease with lease schedules for more involved projects. We can also include equipment from multiple vendors into one lease agreement. We can structure your lease to be a capital lease with a pre-determined residual option, or a true operating lease for advantageous off balance sheet accounting or tax treatment. Besides our focus on Production equipment, such as generators, lighting and electrical equipment, grip equipment and production trucks, we can also finance IT, office equipment, computer hardware and software, communications systems, surveillance, or almost anything else that is essential use equipment you need for your business.
